2. Introduction

2.1 Overview

Web development refers in general to the tasks associated with developing websites for hosting via intranet or internet. The web development process includes web design, web content development, client-side/server-side scripting and network security configuration, among other tasks.

In a broader sense, web development encompasses all the actions, updates, and operations required to build, maintain and manage a website to ensure its performance, user experience, and speed are optimal.

It might also, but not necessarily, include all those strategic actions needed to ensure its proper ranking on search engine results.

Usually, those tasks pertain to a different specialization, namely search engine optimization (SEO)

Web development is also known as website development, while the professionals that maintain a website are called web developers.

2.2 Topics covered

3. Aastha Foundation NGO Website

About Project:

This is a Website for Aastha Foundation NGO. It is a full stack website which includes both front-end and back-end parts. For developing the front-end part, technologies like HTML, CSS, JS, Bootstrap are used. For Back-end PHP, MySQL Database is used.

Website also includes Admin Panel. This Admin Panel have proper authentication like login and logout and forget password functionalities.

In Admin Panel UI, there is also a dashboard section where admin can see all the sections of the website, forms and tables are created for every section which is present in the front-end part.

Form includes all the data and uploading images (Images can be uploaded using Choose File or Drive Link option). Then this data is sent to the database using POST method. The data can then be fetched to the admin panel and front-end part from the database using GET method. There are action buttons for updating and deleting the data and the data can be edited or deleted from admin panel table using UPDATE and DELETE method.

Also in MySQL database, different tables are created for every section of every page.

Aastha Foundation NGO Website is also hosted on <https://aasthafoundation.org.in> this URL and this is hosted using hpanel (Hostinger).

3. Result

Through this program I was able to learn new technologies and implement them to make a project that is extended further for business purposes. The internship at Tagliente India Pvt. Ltd. gave me a headstart in my journey of learning and working with latest technologies.

The main objective behind pursuing this internship was to understand the practical approach to Web Development, implement and make a project based on the skills.

I learnt to gain hands-on experience with these technologies.
